

Hali Robinett, MPH

Hali Robinett is Program Manager of the National Cancer Institute-sponsored University of Guam/University of Hawaii Cancer Center Partnership at the University of Hawaii Cancer Center where she has provided administrative support to cancer research and capacity building grants and contracts since 1995. A graduate of the University of Hawaii School of Public Health, Hali has committed nearly 30 years to advancing public health in Hawaii and in the U.S. Associated Pacific Islands. She has brought leadership and expertise to several non-profit boards and associations, having served as former chair of Hawaii's Tobacco Prevention and Control Trust Fund and as former president of the University of Hawaii School of Public Health Alumni Association. Hali is dedicated to improving the quality of the field and bringing new opportunities, partnerships and resources to the public health community in the Hawaii-Pacific region.